

Statement of Assurance

Concerning the end- use of the supplied product (s)

We hereby certify that all integrated circuits ,batteries, and any other products, related technical data and software Supplied by Toshiba Electronics (Shanghai) Co., Ltd. (TELS) or its intermediary party, will not be used for any purpose to develop or manufacture nuclear, chemical, biological weapons, missiles (hereafter called weapons of mass destruction) or any other conventional weapons related items.

We further confirm that we will not resell the said products, technical data and software to any party if we know or caused to know that the end- use of the products, technical data and software is for the development and / of manufacture of weapons of mass destruction, and that we will not resell the products, technical data and software to party without imposing the same obligation contained in this statement.

For your information, “The Product” purchased by us will be disposed or used in the following manner that marked [X] :

☐ a) Will be processed or incorporated by us into the following products to be manufactured in the end product will be distributed in

☐ b) Will be resold by' us in the form in which received in same territory -----
The name of our customer (s) and their products are :

☐ c)

The name of our main customer (s) and their products are

☐ d) Others (with full description)

Signature :

Name :

Company :

Title :

Date :

NOTE

This statement is valid for 2 years from the date of date of signature.

This statement is not valid unless company chop is affixed.